

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

By accessing the site www.kenpo.pt and pages related to it, the user undertakes to respect and accept the terms and conditions of use.

1. Rights

The information mentioned on this website including the domain, registered logos, illustrations, photographs, content, text, graphics, and enclosed documents - is exclusive property of IKKA Portugal.

Your downloading, copying, modification, transmission, distribution, reproduction or forwarding, in part or full, for commercial or other purposes without the prior written permission of IKKA Portugal is strictly prohibited and punishable by law.

The user agrees to access the site only for lawful purposes.

2. Privacy and Data Protection Policy

The user is fully responsible for any and all information you provide on the site. The IKKA Portugal shall process data for registration purposes in IKKC2022 Portugal.

If the user wishes to make the modification or removal of the information provided, you must send a written communication to IKKC2022Portugal to info@ikka.pt

The organization of IKKC2022 does not provide or make available to third parties the personal information provided by users of this site.

The organization of IKKC2022 meets all the regular procedures to preserve this site privacy. It may, however, be required by law to formally disclose the information provided to the competent authorities.

3. Disclaimer

The IKKA Portugal is not responsible for any damage or loss that may result from use of the information contained on this website, directly or indirectly arising out of or related to the use of this Site.

4. Access

Access to certain contents of this site may be reserved to people over age users.

Filling out the form for IKKC2022Portugal is intended solely for over 18 years old.

Users of this site may not use any application or software that may interfere with normal functioning.